

THE GOVERNMENT OF DARWAN

A REPORT ON THE SOCIETY OF DARWAN

MR PAUL ASIF

NOTE FROM THE PRESIDENT

On progress

As your President of the Government of Darwan and the leader of the Social Evolution Party, I wish to thank you for your committed support as citizens of Darwan. Darwan has become an example for the rest of the world. The progress that we have made in the past 5 years rivals even the most progressive countries in the world.

Education provision remains excellent and we are committed to building 200,000 new homes this year alone. As a result of our employment schemes, unemployment has dropped dramatically. I am proud to report that unemployment levels are at 2%: the lowest figure in 20 years. 6 million new jobs have been created over the past 5 years. This is progress. Low unemployment is regarded as a positive sign for the economy. Darwan's economy is growing each day and new trade routes are being established.

Our military is considered to be one of the most well-equipped in the world. We are a small nation but we have considerable air, land and sea power. We also continue to work alongside our allies in the United Nations and are committed to reducing Darwan's carbon footprint in line with global targets.

I hear calls for the introduction of a Universal Basic Income (UBI). This idea is not feasible for anyone that has taken the time to do the maths. Introducing what is 'free money' would cost Darwan $50 million each year. This would mean a reduction in the amount the state can spend on education and healthcare. People need to be responsible for themselves. The government will always support those that help themselves. We will never offer free handouts as this will remove the incentive to work and cause the collapse of our economy. Hard working people will always fair better in life and the government of Darwan will continue to provide opportunities for those that work hard.

Words of Wisdom from Our Teachers

The inside pages play a very important part in sharing news. It's where readers can find the meat of your articles. Appeal to them with a non-intimidating layout that spreads the content evenly for an easygoing experience. It should invite them to continue from where they left off. Also, don't forget to double check your sources! Credibility is crucial

As readers come to terms with what you've shared, it's always great to reward them with a little extra something. Add in different sections for a variety of lighter information, such as a music and movies section or a gadget section. Put in bite-sized notes on the latest releases or do reviews. Giving the audience new things to consider that isn't easily found on the Internet helps to gain trust along the way.

On the last page, you can opt to end your newsletter with an entertainment section just for fun. Get creative and put in crossword puzzles, mazes, and other games. It's just another reason for people to hold on to it a little longer, after all. Pull in some extra help from artistic individuals who are willing to share their talent in storytelling through drawings. A comic strip or two to evoke a laugh brings an even friendlier tone to the little report.
